District picks park director

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Steve Kessel was hired as parks and recreation director in the Granite City Park District Wednesday night. Kessel will start his duties Nov. 12 at a salary of $27,000 per year. His appointment was approved by the park board by a 5-0 vote.

Kessel, 27, comes from Muscatine, Iowa, a town with a population of 21,000, located on the Mississippi River about 35 miles west of Davenport.

BOARD PRESIDENT George Sykes said the park district in Muscatine was similar in size and budget to Granite City's. "We liked the way he responded to us and thought he would have a lot to offer," Sykes said.

Kessel is a native of Belleville and went to high school in Flora, Ill., graduating in 1976. He received a bachelor of science degree in recreation in the fall of 1979 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with some coursework completed leading to a master's degree.

HE HAS BEEN the recreation supervisor for the Muscatine Parks and Recreation Department since October 1980. He originally was hired to assist the superintendent of recreation in planning community leisure services, but the department was restructured in 1982 and all responsibilities of the superintendent were given to Kessel.

Since then, Kessel has directed the work of 100 to 150 people in the recreation program.

Prior to that job, Kessel had also worked as a summer camp director and a recreation programmer at a YMCA.

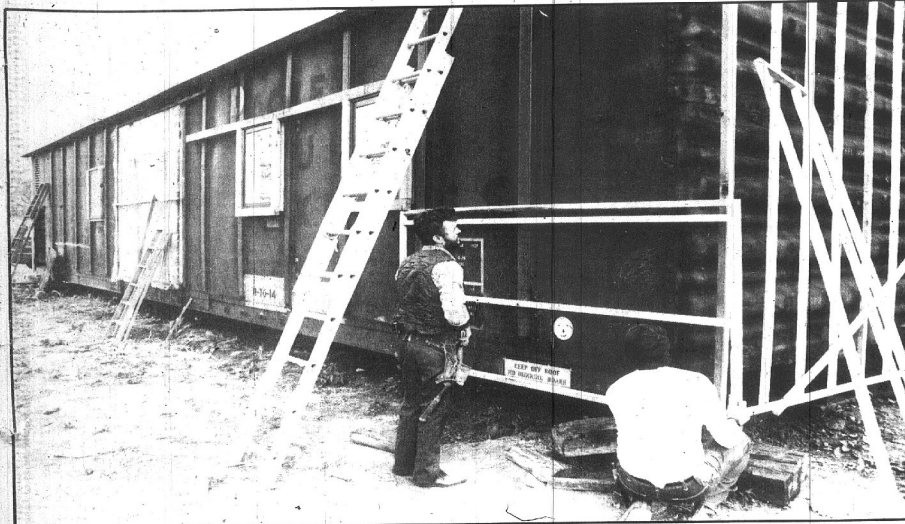

HIS PROFESSIONAL activities include being a member of the Iowa Parks and Recreation Association and the National Recreation and Parks Association.

He also took part in a "Pool Operators Seminar," which Sykes said could be quite helpful in light of the district's mechanical problems with the Wilson Park Pool. Kessel has served as a member of the Governor's Award for Physical Fitness and Sports Committee in 1982 and was chairman of that committee this year. The Muscatine Parks and Recreation Department won the Governor's Award for Physical Fitness in 1981.

IN ADDITION to the $27,000 salary, Kessel will receive $150 per month in expenses. Sykes said he will receive no additional expenses for trips within a 200-mile radius, as that should be covered in the monthly payment. That radius includes Springfield, where Kessel will likely make frequent trips on business.

The board also agreed to pay part of his family's moving expenses and will allow him time off on Friday afternoons while he is moving.

Kessel's wife works in the computer field and Sykes said he would forward her resumes to any companies in this area which might be interested. Sykes said Kessel's wife would probably not be in town until December.

New housing concept

to be installed. A double door and windows have been cut into the refrigerated cars' outer shells, which are fused together lengthwise and are seen here from the rear. Builder Bob Little said the duplex will be "soundproof and virtually indestructible." Heating and cooling costs will be minimal, he added.

Former GC residents killed in shooting

EDWARDSVILLE — Two of three murder victims found in the rubble of a house fire were formerly of the Granite City area.

The three were shot before the house fire, which was discovered at 5:45 a.m. Monday, Oct. 7, on Smith Road northwest of Edwardsville. Madison County authorities said.

THE VICTIMS were identified as Christopher K. Shrom, 26, of Edwardsville; Kevin L. Burch, 25, of Edwardsville; and Della Riggins, 20, of Glen Carbon. Burch and Riggins were former residents of Granite City.

The Madison County Fire Investigative Task Force and the Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation (DCI) have determined the house fire was arson, and the victims suffered gunshot wounds prior to the fire.

The investigation is continuing. Mr. Burch was the son of Leroy and Nora Burch of 17 Lily Court, Pontoon Beach. He was employed as an insurance agent for American National Insurance Co. in Pontoon Beach.

HE MOVED INTO the Edwardsville home with Mr. Shrom about two weeks ago while waiting to move into an apartment in Granite City.

Prior to moving into the Shrom home, Burch lived with a Granite City couple, according to Burch's sister, Vanessa Farrington.

Mr. Burch had dated Miss Riggins for approximately 10 months, Farrington said. Miss Riggins had been residing with an aunt in Glen Carbon.

Riggins was employed as a cashier for the Wal-Mart store in Glen Carbon. She was the daughter of Charles Riggins of Edwardsville and of Peggy Sukeforth of Engelhard, N.C.

THE BURCH FAMILY knew nothing about Mr. Shrom or his acquaintanceship with Kevin Burch, Farrington said.

"We didn't know Kevin knew him (Shrom). We never met him," Farrington said.

The authorities have given the Burch family little information about his death, Farrington said. "We've been getting our information from the news," she said.

THE BODIES of the three were burned so badly, authorities said, that dental records were used to identify them. Authorities declined to say where the victims were shot or to release other details about the case.

The fire was reported early Monday by a man who went to the house looking for his ride to work. By the time firemen arrived, the flames

Contractor to be charged with violating building codes

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — A charge of violating village building codes will be filed against a developer and a homeowner on Georgetown Drive, following action Tuesday by the Village Board of Trustees.

After discovering a home in Lakeview Estates did not have proper side footage, the board instructed village attorney Keith Jensen to file the allegation in the Third Circuit Court in Madison County.

"MR. (MIKE) KING'S house does not have the necessary side footage," Jensen told the board. "It's in violation of the city's side street, Westgate. We could file against Mr. (Darrell) Layman and the current occupant, Mr. King. It would require altering the house, which could put Mr. King in a lawsuit against Mr. Layman."

Layman, who is building homes along Georgetown Drive, is said to have built King's home at 45 Georgetown Drive.

"We've got no alternative but to take action because he's built six inches from Westgate," Trustee Lou Whitsell said. "When he (Layman) turned in a map for the building permit, it did not show Westgate Drive."

WESTGATE DRIVE, which has not been built, has been dedicated to the village.

"Vacating the lot would solve my problem," King told the board.

"We're saving our Westgate Drive," Whitsell responded.

IN OTHER ACTION, Jensen told the board Layman would like a variance to allow him to build five homes around a cul-de-sac at the end of Georgetown Drive.

The Village Board rejected a resubdivided plat Sept. 24 because the frontage width on the lots was 27 feet, short of the village ordinance requirement of 30 feet. It was the third time the board had rejected the resubdivided plat.

"He can build four houses or he can build five houses and ask for a variance to change the size of the house," Jensen said.

"AS FAR AS I'm concerned, I'm not ever going to approve a plat unless it meets our codes," Trustee Don Rea said. "To do that, he must build four houses, not five."

Layman has a right to ask for the variance, but trustees indicated they would refuse the request.

Whitsell noted Georgetown Drive had been paved down to Westgate Drive. The work was done by the Nameoki Township Highway Department and cost less than anticipated, Whitsell said.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, Rea told the board a water sample taken from the Village Green Mobile Home Park at 3801 Lake Drive had been tested and declared safe for drinking.

Churches help Phoenix shelter battered women

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — A home and hotline for battered women has been started by the fledgling Phoenix Crisis Center Inc.

The decision to fund the home's rental was made by the Council of United Methodist Churches in Granite City after they heard Phoenix representative Carol Chiappa's talk on the plight of this area's battered women.

"I didn't have any response from them (at first) and I felt kind of bad when I left," she said. "I figured I really bombed."

The talk went better than Chiappa thought. Trinity United Methodist Church Pastor Michael Smith told her the council was silent because they were overwhelmed with the need. They pledged enough money to rent the home for six months.

The council plans a "Gigantic Garage Sale" to help raise funds for Phoenix. The sale, Chiappa said, will start at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 19, at Nameoki United Methodist Church, 1900 Pontoon Road.

Those working with Phoenix are thankful for the support, but they are also helping themselves. This week they are involved with cleaning, painting and making minor repairs to the home to make it fit for occupancy.

Common items are sought to meet needs of women and children, Chiappa said. If persons have items to donate, Phoenix will pick up the items, she said.

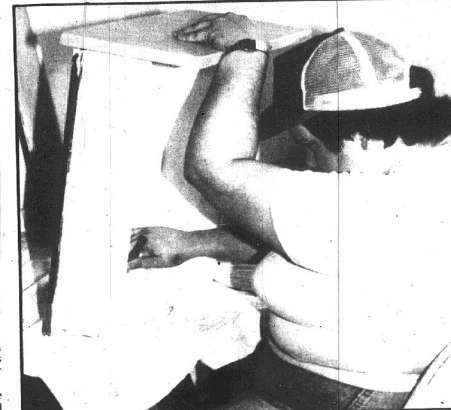

Needed are bunk beds, a kitchen table and chairs, appliances, a washer and dryer, bedding, cribs, coffee tables, lamps, linens, toiletries, food staples, disposable diapers, a television, board games, toys, a microwave oven and a copier.

Persons can use the hotline to reach the center for help or to make a donation, Chiappa said. The number is 451-1008.

"I need more volunteers, too," Chiappa said. Since the organization started early this year, Chiappa has been on call 24-hours-per-day every day. She has limited assistance.

In addition, money is needed. The Phoenix shelter's rent will be paid for the next few months, but other needs — such as paying utility bills — have to be met, Chiappa said.

"It's going to be tight," Chiappa said. "It's going to hurt, but we'll do it."

VOLUNTEERISM: The practice of helping others is kept up-to-date in the Quad-Cities Area by the Phoenix center for battered women. Helping paint kitchen drawers is Karen Reedy.

As their insurance policies expire this year, many businessmen and government officials are scrambling for policies that are either unaffordable or unavailable.

The cause of the insurance shortage, its effects on businesses, consumers and governments, and the solutions being proposed will be examined in a series of articles beginning in Sunday's Press-Record/Journal.

Dog fight training practices outlawed

A new law bans practices commonly used by persons to instigate dog fights. Sen. Sam Vadala, sponsor, said it will prohibit the fastening of a live animal to a propped device for the purpose of being chased by dogs.

It requires the officer making the arrest to seize all property, including the dogs, used for committing the offense. If the person or persons are found guilty, the equipment involved is to be forfeited, with the person subject to one year in prison or a fine of $1,000.

Veterinarians must report suspected violations in return for immunity when they report the violations.

Vadala said the ban on use of live animals in devices to train dogs applies only to dogs trained for fighting. Some trainers also use such devices to train hunting dogs in the field, and the provision won't apply to hunting dogs.

Board to consider mobile home permit

MADISON COUNTY — A request for a special use permit will be considered during an on-site hearing by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals at 10:15 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 24.

Richard Oram, owner, and Melissa Madewell, occupant, want a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Chouteau Township. The property is located on Old Chain of Rocks Road next to Mitchell School.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The law with regard to obscenity revolves around several United States Supreme Court decisions. The reason the Supreme Court has become involved in this question is because the constitutional guarantee of free speech is involved. The line between what is acceptable free speech and what is obscenity is an extremely difficult line to draw.

The Supreme Court has attempted to set a standard regarding obscenity. The Court has indicated that the test which must be applied should be based on contemporary community standards. Illinois law considers something to be obscene if it appeals predominantly to "prurient interests." This is defined as a shameful or morbid interest in nudity or sex, and if it goes substantially beyond customary limits in description of such matters. Keep in mind that something may be determined to be obscene in one community while in another community it would not be considered obscene.

Illinois law regarding criminal obscenity considers the degree of public acceptance of any material within a given community. The method to be used to demonstrate a "community standard" became an important issue in one recent case in this state. In this matter, the defendant was an employee of an "adult book store" in Rockford, Illinois, where supposedly obscene films were shown on a regular basis. These films were viewed by a police officer posing as a customer, and they were later seized pursuant to a search warrant. The State's Attorney prosecuted the defendant for criminal obscenity.

As part of his defense, the defendant hired a social scientist who specialized in conducting public opinion polls. The social scientist polled the adult population of the State of Illinois. He concluded that the majority of Illinois adults found it acceptable to view, buy or read materials such as those contained in the movies. The trial court, however, ruled that the survey was inadmissible, and the defendant was convicted and sentenced to a term of 45 days in jail and fined $1,000.

The Appellate Court found that the exclusion of this evidence could have affected the verdict. The Court noted that the questions and answers were relevant to show the degree of public acceptance of the movies. The trial court, by refusing to allow the jury to hear the evidence, left the jurors with no way of knowing what the State standard might be. Therefore, the Appellate Court sent the case back for a new trial.

Fewer felony cases disposed of in August

Although August appeared to be a productive month for the Third Circuit Court (Madison and Bond counties), the court fell behind on felony cases, according to Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell.

During August, he noted in his report to the Supreme Court administrator's office, 5,259 cases were filed and 5,366 were terminated by the court.

"In spite of vacations, loss of judges and non-juries for the month of August, this was an excellent month for dispositions, especially in the traffic, small claims and ordinance violation categories," Portell said. "However, although there were slight gains in some large categories, there was a very large loss in the felony division, where 160 cases were filed, 10 were transferred to a lower division and only 39 were terminated."

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of August:

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000
Jury	45	64	1814
Non-jury	74	24	658
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000
Jury	0	13	239
Non-jury	49	65	437
Other cases
Chancery	25	22	395
Miscellaneous Remedy	22	35	271
Eminent Domain	0	2	85
Mental Health	63	69	7
Divorce	165	142	1182
Family	109	110	2305
Juvenile	93	39	512
Felony	167	39	366
Misdemeanor	503	489	3409
Small Claims	508	695	2258
Totals	1,822	1,808	13,938

In the traffic division, 2,996 new cases were filed during August and 2,857 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 49 felony cases heard during the month, 29 persons were convicted of felonies, one was dismissed or transferred, nine were dismissed or consolidated and 10 were reduced or a plea was negotiated.

Guilty pleas during August included one for a Class 1 felony, nine for Class 2 felonies, 12 for Class 3 felonies and seven for Class 4 felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included nine persons sent to prisons, seven receiving probation or conditional discharge with periodic imprisonment, and 13 receiving probation or conditional discharge with other discretionary conditions.

Park programs in next Journal

No brochures for the winter programs of the Granite City Park District will be distributed this year. Instead, the district is planning to run a full-page advertisement in the Wednesday, Oct. 16, edition of the Granite City Journal detailing all the information necessary for all winter programs.

Interested persons are being encouraged to save the page; it will replace the brochures which in the past had been handed out to children in the schools.

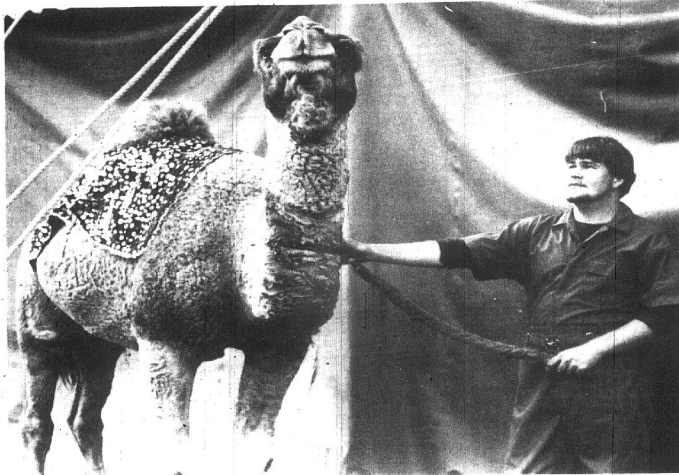

Larrocha to play Chopin

A Chopin interpreter, pianist Alicia de Larrocha, is the special guest of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for two concerts at 8:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13, at Powell Symphony Hall. She will perform Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2.

Other works on the program include the Prelude and Liebestod from "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner and William Schuman's Symphony No. 3. The Schuman symphony is being performed in honor of the composer's 75th birthday.

Most recently appearing with the St. Louis Symphony in April 1981 for performances of Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 27, Larrocha is returning for her sixth set of concerts with the orchestra. Recognized as one of the foremost authorities on Spanish music, she is especially popular with the American public, touring the U.S. and Canada almost every year since 1965.

One of the world's most recorded artists, Larrocha is the recipient of Grammy Awards in 1974 and 1975. The first, Best Classical Performance as soloist without orchestra, was for her recording of "Iberia." Tickets for these performances are $8 to $26 each; 25 percent off the regular ticket price is available to groups of 20 or more. Persons may call 1-314-531-2500, extension 293, for group information, or 1-314-534-1700 for regular or student ticket information.

bacteria of a specific type in the water, Rea said.

However, the lab did find solid materials in the water and recommended the water lines be flushed. The village health officer is working to see that this is done, Rea said.

REA BROUGHT a sample of water from the mobile home park to the Sept. 24 meeting. The water had a cloudy, rusty appearance.

Since then, Rea said, the mobile home park's owners are responding to complaints about conditions at the park.

Other matters before the board included the following:

• Annexation of property at Box 345 Highway 162 was approved. The property is owned by Mike L. and Milly Ireland and is zoned B-2 general business.

• The Village Board authorized the Nameoki Township Highway Department to cut weeds growing in the VFW park on Highway 111. Rea said the VFW will reimburse the village for the cost.

• The utility tax committee will meet Friday to consider exempting senior citizens from the village utility tax. Trustee Bob Vincent said guidelines need to be set for the exemptions.

• The Pontoon Beach Lions Club was given permission to hold its annual Halloween parade between noon and 4 p.m. Oct. 26.

• The Knights of Columbus were given permission to solicit donations along village streets Nov. 1 and 2.

had destroyed the residence.

Officials are asking people who may have information about the case to call the Madison County Sheriff's Department at 1-892-4438 or the DCI at 345-2700.

Investigators are saying little about their progress but appear to be concentrating on possible enemies of Mr. Shrom.

IT IS BELIEVED Mr. Burch and Miss Riggins became victims only because they happened to be present at the Shrom home when the assault or assassinations arrived.

Mr. Shrom, a machinist employed in St. Louis, rented the residence from Frederick and Paul Heepke of Edwardsville.

He is survived by his stepfather and his mother, Ray and June Allen of Edwardsville, a brother, Allen Shrom of Edwardsville, and a half brother, Lawrence Long of Granite City.

Obituaries on Mr. Burch and Miss Riggins are given elsewhere in this issue.

Industry, labor for college plan

When the 1985 baseball Cardinals have needed a lift, they have "pulled themselves up by their own bootstraps" with aggressive, unstinting effort. This community in 1985 also faces a big challenge, and citizens may decide Nov. 5 to take a similarly bold action — authorizing a tax boost.

Beset by employment cutbacks, Quad-Citians and other Belleville Area College District residents, in enlightened self-interest, have begun to weld new links between education and industry. It has been an effective combination in past decades — golden years of high employment and high production — and it can be once again.

Nobody likes taxation, least of all manufacturers trying to cut costs so they can combat tough foreign competition. Yet, they believe expanded programs at BAC's Granite City Campus (GCC) can have a truly important, truly positive effect. Although they are the biggest local taxpayers, they are among the college referendum's most enthusiastic supporters.

Working people and union groups also are describing the proposal as not only meritorious but essential. They, too, want to build momentum here for more prosperous times in the last half of the 1980s.

The case for a higher tax rate limit starts with the fact that BAC's present rate is below that of 33 of the 37 Illinois college districts. BAC has only half the tax dollars per student of the average Illinois community college. Despite this, BAC and GCC are accurately perceived as having had a profoundly favorable impact. And there is confidence that the college will do an even better job with more adequate resources.

Avery Schermer, chairman of BAC trustees, says, "As a board, we've worked hard to get our financial house in order. I'm now convinced that this tax increase is needed."

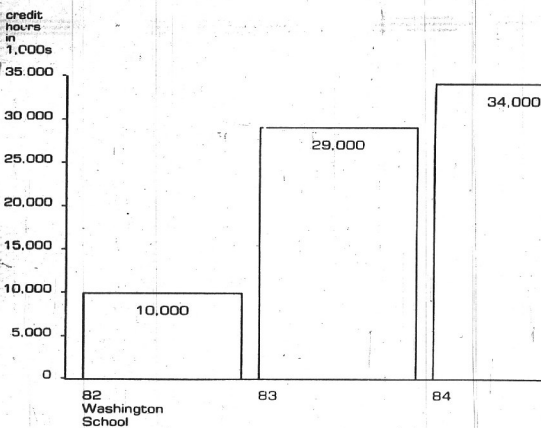

From a different perspective, Kenneth Whaley, A.O. Smith Corp. employee relations manager, has reached the same conclusion: "BAC and its Granite City Campus are a valued source of skills and people for the industrial community. To retain this position, however, improvement, growth, change and development will be required. Fortunately, while the benefits to an area providing technology and human resource skills are immeasurable, the costs are minimal."

BAC Chancellor Bruce Wissore adds, "People are reading the signals of a changing job market and are coming to college. GCC makes it convenient and cost-effective to attend. GCC provides a unique blend of vocational and college-transfer coursework to prepare students for jobs as well as for transfer to four-year colleges and universities."

"GCC can set up programs quickly in response to industry needs. In just two years, it has established a well-rounded program in Granite City. We're asking that the people invest in programs like robotics, word processing, data processing, programmable controllers, laser technology, telecommunications, welding technology, quality control and computerized numerical control operations. Along with these programs will come an expanded teaching staff, more financial aid, advisement and placement services, an improved and expanded library, new classroom equipment and more community-service activities."

Districtwide, the proposed 14-cent rate change per $100 valuation offers a $30.5 million construction program at a cost to BAC of $13 million. GCC is to receive $6.5 million in building improvements, utilizing 75 percent state funding. And 53 percent of the money raised by the overall increase has been promised for the Granite City Campus.

GCC enrollment

How successful has BAC's program in Granite City been?

Granite City Campus' success has outdistanced even the most optimistic predictions. After just two years, the campus is serving more than 2,200 students. There's been a 30 percent increase in full-time day students.

Before Granite City Campus opened, approximately 10 percent of the high school graduates from the Granite City area were attending Belleville Area College. That has increased to 25 percent in just two years.

Plant staff's outlook affects all in its area

To the Editor:
The recent lock-out of brother steelworkers at Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel should be watched with great interest, by every member of our community. Steelworkers in this bitter dispute are being asked to take a long stride backward into a time when a single company could rule an entire city or town.

The question I ask as a citizen of this community is: Could we as a community survive this? Could we allow wages and benefits to be cut further? How would this affect our professional people, i.e., doctors and lawyers? Our merchants? Our tax base as the unemployed and underemployed move away to seek better conditions?

If we are all to survive and prosper, we must seek a solution to these problems without placing the burden entirely on the workers' backs.

The Steelworkers have given the time and money to aid every sector of this community and I ask for help and support in aiding the cause of workers everywhere by standing with us in this cause.

Big turnout at Venice circus

To the Editor:
I along with the entire Venice Park Board commend the president and entire group of men of the Venice Lion Club for a job well done. For the first time in history, a circus was held in Lee Park. The citizens of Venice should be proud of these men.

I hope in the future we as citizens get behind any group that is doing something for the benefit of the entire community.

There was a great turnout of adults as well as children to welcome the circus. I hope that we are able to have them back again, next year.

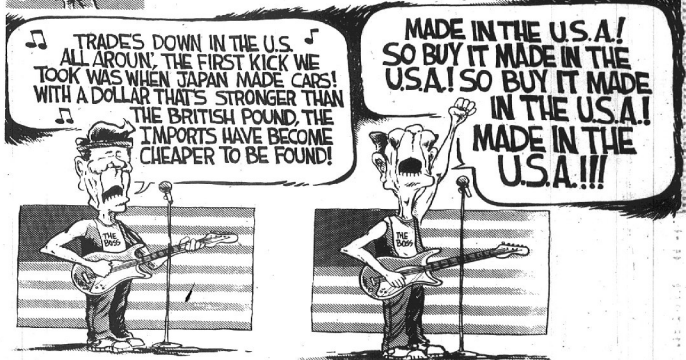

We must give credit where it is due. My hat is off to the Venice Lions Club. I am sure the Venice park commissioners are ready and willing to assist the Venice Lions in every way we can.

Should imports be limited?

Should the federal government limit foreign imports of all kinds to help domestic industries stay in business and be able to compete for U.S. dollars?

Ruby Riggins, Granite City

"Oh yes. I definitely think so. I think everybody would agree we should."

Michael Fulkerson, Granite City

"I think we should limit imports because the foreign governments subsidize their exports so the prices are cheaper here."

Mary Butler, Madison

"I think so. I think we should help our own (businesses). There are a lot of people here that can use the jobs."

Continue search for new oil, gas supplies

To the Editor:
No American consumer would support legislation that bore a label reading: "Guaranteed to reduce supplies of gasoline and home heating oil and to raise their prices." Yet, Congress is now considering proposals that would produce exactly those results. If enacted, their impact would be felt in every American community, large and small.

Those proposals seek to impose heavier taxes on the U.S. petroleum industry, which, on average, already pays federal income taxes at a rate higher than the average of other industries.

When other federal taxes are included in the comparison, it becomes clear that the oil industry is the most heavily taxed major industry in the United States; almost double the average of other industries.

Naturally, oil companies accept the fact that they have to pay their share of taxes. But heavier taxes would make investment in oil and gas less attractive and would reduce money available for exploration and drilling — and, of course, that would have an adverse impact on the nation's future energy supply.

In submitting his tax reform proposals to Congress, President Reagan warned that any reduction in oil supply from domestic sources would increase the country's dependence on foreign energy, exacerbate the problem of the trade deficit and again make the U.S. vulnerable to concerted political or market action by foreign energy producers.

The U.S. buys nearly one-third of its oil supply from other countries. That is about the same level of dependence that existed just before several Arab nations imposed the oil embargo of 1973-74.

Last year, Americans paid other countries more than one billion dollars every week for oil. That was equal to almost half of this country's international trade deficit. Since 1970, the U.S. has spent nearly $600 billion for imported oil.

Unless producers find a lot of oil and natural gas in this country within the next few years, U.S. proved reserves will continue to decline. By the mid-1990s, when world oil markets are expected to become tighter, Americans could be dependent on foreign sources for 50 percent or more of their oil needs.

One of the changes being discussed in Congress could reduce U.S. energy production by the equivalent of 1.6 million barrels a day by 1995.

That is the proposal to prevent oil and gas producers from deducting drilling-related costs of such items as labor, fuel, hauling, technical services and site preparation in the year in which those expenditures are made. Instead, they would be required to stretch out the cost-recovery process over several years.

That would reduce the profitability of drilling prospects and curtail the funds available for drilling. The result would be less domestic production, more imports and upward pressure on world oil prices.

By 1995, the combined effect of higher import volumes and higher world oil prices would add an estimated $40 billion a year to the nation's oil-import bill. President Reagan has strongly urged that producers be allowed to continue deducting these "intangible drilling and development costs" on a current basis. Here is how some other proposals now before Congress would affect U.S. consumers:

- Eliminating "investment tax credits" would discourage investment in the search for new oil and gas fields.

- Drastically reducing "percentage depletion allowances," which are available to independent producers under current law, would substantially reduce drilling activity by independents, who account for a large number of the exploratory wells drilled.

- Increasing taxes on U.S. oil companies operating overseas would put them at a disadvantage in competing against foreign oil companies.

The facts developed in various governmental, academic and private studies debunk the myth that oil companies do not pay their fair share of taxes or that taxing oil companies further would have no adverse effect.

For example, a recent study by researchers from Texas A&M University, supplementing data from the Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation, concluded that when federal income taxes and so-called "windfall profit" taxes are taken into account, the petroleum industry's 1983 effective U.S. tax rate was 46.6 percent, compared with an average of 16.7 percent for all industries.

As Congress considers changes in the tax laws, the need to encourage the search for new oil and gas supplies must be given high priority.

Resident urges donations for crisis center

To the Editor:
I would like to express my feelings on the good news I have been told. The Granite City mayor and churches are getting and renting a place for the organization called Phoenix.

It will help wives and also little children that have no place to go and who are being abused by their fathers or mothers.

I know they have such centers in Belleville and Alton, but never in Granite City. Before, I didn't seem to matter to anyone. I want to say I will stand up for this place and do all I can to help.

Our Lord does care for this city.

And I thank the ministers and churches for their backing of this.

God bless the one who started this. I'm sure if everyone in this area would give $5, this organization will succeed. We need it. Come on, public, let's help.

Township involved in $12 million settlement

NAMEOKI — A small portion of a $12.7 million lawsuit settlement will be paid by Nameoki Township, according to attorney Donald Dahmann, who represented the township's insurer, United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co.

The family of Michelle Lemings filed suit in December 1980 against the Nameoki Township Highway Department, Collinsville School District 10 and Metro-East Disposal Inc. Lemings, now 15, suffered brain damage and fractures when she was struck as she crossed the street in front of State Park School.

The suit alleged the school system failed to supervise her adequately, Nameoki Township failed to install proper traffic markers near the school, and the disposal company's dumpster blocked the girl's view of the street.

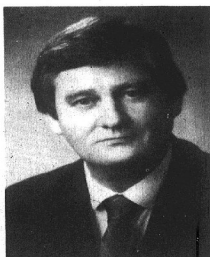

The lawsuit and settlement largely was handled by the school district, Dahmann said.

"We didn't have much participation," he said. "We've satisfied any obligation owed to them."

The township will not participate in the structured settlement, which pays Lemings money over her lifetime, Dahmann said.

BURGLARS SCARED AWAY

Jackie Morelock and Vicki McMillan of the 2800 block of Victory Drive reported Oct. 7 that when they returned home they saw a person in their upstairs apartment. Two youths then climbed out a rear window and escaped from a roof. Nothing appeared to be missing. Entry was made by prying open a window.

Thomas Voloski

Voloski is endorsed by Republicans

Madison County Republican Chairman Edward Ragsdale this week announced that Thomas E. Voloski has won the unanimous endorsement of the Republican Candidates Committee and the Executive Committee of the county Republican Party after meeting with both groups.

Dr. Ragsdale said, "Voloski has an excellent record as a police officer for 15 years, including 10 years in uniform and 5 years as a detective."

"He has an associate degree in law enforcement and has attended the Illinois Police Training Institute. He is a member of the Madison County Police Association and other police associations in Illinois."

"Voloski is 44 years old and is in excellent physical condition. Voloski and his wife, Dorothy, operate a restaurant and catering business in Madison. They have four children, ages 12 to 21."

Voloski, when appearing before the Republican groups, said, "I will be a no-nonsense sheriff. My experience as a police officer and in business qualify me to be sheriff. I will work very hard as sheriff in every phase of administration and in the field."

"Voloski is the type of well-qualified and motivated candidate we have been seeking and we are pleased to give him our full backing," Ragsdale concluded. The primary election is set for March 1986.

Holiday Harvest fest at Relleke farm this weekend

John and Carol Relleke, Sand Prairie Road, will host a two-day Holiday Harvest fun fest Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13. Sand Prairie Road branches off from Highway 111 just south of Lakeside Airport.

Holiday Harvest is "people helping people," according to the farm couple. The idea came from a northern Illinois farmer, Jack Young, that farmers would welcome the opportunity to share part of their crops with needy children in the Chicago area. The following year, several Illinois and Missouri county Farm Bureaus decided there were needy children in this region who would welcome help during the Christmas season.

Funds raised are divided between the needs of the "collar counties" and St. Louis. KMOX Radio and National Food are partners with farmers in this effort.

In St. Louis, the funds are given to the Christmas Carols Group, which share with 49 charities and also to the Ronald McDonald House.

In this county, funds go to the Alton Oasis home for battered children, a school for autistic children, and blind children. Hosts Carol and John have constructed two straw castles, and there will be a petting zoo, compliments of the Washington County, Ill., Farm Bureau Young Farmers and the Highland Future Farmers Chapter.

There will be apple butter making, pumpkin painting, food concessions, a bee and honey display, and games of all kinds for adults and young alike.

Pumpkins, apples and other fall produce will be shown and entertainment will include a kiddie tractor pull and display of an old-fashioned steam tractor and thrasher.

Future Secretaries install Melinda Davis

The Granite City High School chapter of the future Secretaries Association began its 1985-86 year by installing Melinda Davis as president, Caroline Friedel vice president, Tina Palmisano corresponding secretary, Dawn Rinehart recording secretary, Amy Scherrills treasurer and, Denise Worthen, board member.

Two from the Tri-Cities Chapter of Professional Secretaries International talked about their jobs and the examination for certified professional secretary. The speakers were President Barbara Bauer and Recording Secretary Beverly Taylor.

Plans were made for a float in the homecoming parade, and ways and means projects were discussed.

Ban sought on cancer insurance

Patrick Quinn, commissioner of the Cook County Board of Tax Appeals and founder of the Illinois Coalition for Political Honesty, has called on the Illinois Department of Insurance and the General Assembly to institute a ban on sale of cancer insurance in Illinois.

"Cancer insurance has been the fastest growing and most profitable line of insurance in the past decade, but it's of very limited value to consumers," Quinn said. "Buying health insurance one disease at a time is like buying a house brick by brick or fire insurance for only the dining room."

INSURANCE EXPERTS and the American Cancer Society agree it is inadvisable to buy cancer insurance, Quinn said. It is far more effective to obtain overall coverage that includes all major health problems, whether it be cancer, an accident, or the number-one killer - heart disease.

Quinn said the average health insurance policy pays 80 cents on the premium dollar, but cancer insurance pays only an average of 40 cents. In addition, although the average cancer treatment costs $17,000, the average cancer insurance claim pays only $1,000.

Similarly, cancer insurance generally provides only $50 to $100 hospital coverage per day, while health insurance for cancer can run many times that amount; costs for out-patient care, therapy, rehabilitation, diagnosis and medication are generally not covered by cancer insurance, he added.

Quinn said the sale of cancer insurance exploits the public's general fear of cancer and preys on the vulnerability of the elderly in particular; numerous studies indicate a disproportionate volume of cancer insurance is sold to the elderly.

"Cancer insurance not only provides very modest benefits, but it covers cancer costs haphazardly and some other health costs not at all," Quinn said. He cited the example of an Illinois woman who received some cancer insurance claim coverage for a mastectomy, but was refused coverage for a broken leg that was caused by the spread of her cancer.

"Many policies are written in mumbo-jumbo legalese, and the small print denies what the large print implies," Quinn said.

SALE OF SUCH insurance has been banned or severely restricted in 13 states, including New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Michigan.

Only one of the 50 largest insurance companies offers cancer insurance and most insurance executives advise against it, Quinn said. Nevertheless, consumers spent $3 billion last year on cancer insurance, and it has been the fastest growing and most profitable line of insurance since 1976, he said.

Quinn said Medicare and a good Medicare supplement are more than adequate protection against cancer costs. He strongly recommended that consumers be wary of cancer insurance and called on the Illinois General Assembly or Department of Insurance to ban the sale of cancer insurance entirely.

"At the very least, Illinois should adopt a requirement that cancer insurance policies pay a minimum of 80 cents on the premium dollar," Quinn said.

HE VOICED his opinion that the sale of cancer insurance policies illustrates the need for a consumer insurance watchdog group such as the Consumer Insurance Board he has proposed.

The CIB would represent the interests of families and businesses purchasing life, auto, homeowner and health insurance in Illinois; it would hire full-time experts to represent consumers before the Department of Insurance and to lobby for insurance reform legislation, such as a ban on the sale of cancer insurance, Quinn said.

Persons interested in more information on the cancer insurance issue or the CIB proposal may contact Patrick Quinn, P.O. Box 428, Oak Park, Ill. 60303 or call 1-312-443-5540.

Dr. Ronald Seaton to speak here Monday

Dr. Ronald Seaton, a surgeon trained at Johns Hopkins University and chief surgeon at Miral Hospital in India, will speak at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville, Monday, Oct. 14. He will address the assembly at 7 p.m. and the supper will be a "Dutch" treat event, according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

A school for Christian faith will begin Sunday evening, Oct. 13, in the Presbyterian Church of Ballwin, Mo. A wide range of classes is being offered. The school will begin with supper at 5 p.m. and the sessions will end at 8:15 p.m.

Open house at Jewish Hospital nurse school

The Jewish Hospital School of Nursing will hold an open house for prospective students Thursday, Oct. 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. Faculty and students will be available to answer questions and lead tours of the school.

The Jewish Hospital School of Nursing has educated more than 3,000 registered nurses since its first graduating class in 1905. Affiliated with a major teaching hospital in the Washington University Medical Center, it offers both a 27-month diploma program and a four-year bachelor of science in nursing program in cooperation with the University of Missouri-St. Louis. The school is located at 306 S. Kingshighway.

Judgment against Sheriff Toffant dismissed by court

A judge in U.S. District Court in East St. Louis has set aside a $198,000 damage judgment against Madison County Sheriff Tom Toffant a deputy in a case involving a Highland family.

HE THREW OUT the $198,000 judgment awarded by a jury to the family of James Haller Jr. in August.

The Haller family charged in the lawsuit, filed in 1984, that civil rights were violated by Cain, who allegedly pushed his way into their Marine home in search of a burglary suspect Jan. 15, 1982.

"Testimony supporting the plaintiff's claim was weak," Juergens said in his ruling. "The amounts of these punitive damages awards shock the conscience of this court. The awards of compensatory damages were also excessive."

"There was not a scintilla of evidence of outrageous or shocking conduct," the judge said. A FEDERAL JURY in East St. Louis Aug. 1 awarded compensatory damages of $85,000 and punitive damages of $113,000 to Haller, his wife, Bonnie, and four children. They now live in Highland.

The jury ordered Toffant to pay the family $75,000 in punitive damages. Cain was ordered to pay $38,000 in punitive damages.

The punitive damages against Toffant and his deputy were not covered by the county's insurance policy at the time of the incident, said James K. Monday, county director of administration.

Charles Douglas, attorney for the family, filed suit in Circuit Court in Edwardsville last week to get a ruling that the insurance company had to pay the punitive damages.

"I STILL WANT a ruling from the circuit court on the punitive damages," Douglas said Oct. 4. Douglas said he was disappointed in the federal ruling because the Haller family will have to return to court and face the psychological affects of reliving the ordeal.

"I think there is a golden opportunity to show improved damages, more than what was awarded before," Douglas said. Juergens said, "The court firmly believes the verdicts are clearly against the manifest weight of the evidence, and that new trial is mandated."

Eagle Park man, 31, faces five charges

Larry L. Cox, 31, of 102 Roosevelt Drive, Eagle Park, pleaded innocent to five charges in an appearance in the Granite City court Oct. 4. He was returned to the Venice city jail and later was transferred to the Madison County jail in Edwardsville.

Cox was charged by Venice police with attempted theft, assault, resisting arrest, battery and disorderly conduct following an incident near Ilava's Repair Shop at Madison Avenue and Market Street, Venice.

A truck driver from Poplar Bluff, Mo., alleged seeing a man trying to take the chain loose from a spare tire on a truck parked in front of the repair shop. The man then walked away.

Police searched the area and a man was seen in the 1500 block alley between Second and Market streets, Madison. Cox was taken into custody.

At Venice police headquarters, Cox allegedly began cursing officers and tried to break away from Patrolman Daniel McKinney. Force was used to restrain him.

As Cox was being escorted to a cell, he allegedly struck McKinney in the left jaw area and also grabbed Patrolman Gary Wallace by the left forearm.

INTRUDER WITH KNIFE AWAKENS VENICE WOMAN

A Venice woman was awakened by a man standing over her and holding a knife to her throat, she told police at 1:25 a.m. Oct. 5. The victim, who lives in the 1200 block of Bissell Street, was asleep on a couch in the living room when awakened.

The assailant held the knife to her throat as he dragged her to a bedroom, cutting her hand in the process. She began screaming and he climbed out of a window and ran north toward Mark Street. He had a thick mustache, weighed about 160 pounds and was about 5 feet 9 inches tall. He wore a black jacket, jeans and a hat with a narrow bill.

THREE HURT IN MISHAP ON MCKINLEY BRIDGE

Richard Revelle, 35, of 232 Holiday Mobile Home Park was injured Oct. 5 when his pickup truck hit a railing on the McKinley Bridge, Venice, bounced off the rail and struck another vehicle, causing the pickup to flip onto its side.

Sheila M. Chapman, 41, Belleville, said she was traveling in the center lane of the bridge when the eastbound truck hit the railing and struck her auto. She and a passenger in her car, Sandra E. Waldman of Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, sustained minor injuries. Revelle was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

STOLEN CARD USED HERE

An electric frying pan, two dolls and other items, with a total value of more than $80, were taken from the Walgreen store, 3801 Nameoki Road, Oct. 4. A man who had presented a credit card, later determined to be stolen, left the store before the purchase was finalized, taking the merchandise with him.

ITEMS STOLEN FROM TRUCK

Tony Miller of Fisk, Mo., told Venice police Oct. 4 his 1977 truck was loaded with a radar detector valued at $250, a 19-inch TV set worth $90, cassette tapes worth $50, a camera valued at $50, a $12 alarm clock, and a canvas bag containing clothing and accessories. Lumber tarpaulins worth about $500 and a purse belonging to his wife, Brenda, containing $212 and credit cards, also were stolen. The vehicle was in a truck parking area at Madison and Collinsville avenues.

Edward Kampmann

Larry Kampmann Jr.

Two local children missing, sought by authorities

Two missing Granite City children are being sought by Madison County sheriff's deputies.

Reported missing Oct. 6 were Edward Robert Kampmann, 2, and Larry Gene Kampmann Jr., 3.

The two were last seen leaving on a cross-town ride with their father, Edward Gene Kampmann Sr., at about 6:10 p.m. Sunday.

The two boys are under the guardianship of their grandmother, Rosemary Kampmann of 1142 St. Thomas Road.

The grandmother said she is especially concerned about Edward because he suffers from a serious heart ailment. She said the boy's required medication is missing from the home.

Edward has undergone one operation and must undergo a second corrective operation, she said.

When last seen, Edward was wearing blue jeans and a brown jacket. He is three-feet tall, weighs 28 pounds, has short brown hair, hazel eyes and a thin build. He has a large scar on the left side of his body, from the middle of his chest to the middle of his back.

Larry was wearing brown pants, a blue, long-sleeved shirt and a blue jacket. He is three-feet tall, weighs 28 pounds, has short brown hair, hazel eyes and a medium build. Larry has a cigarette burn mark midway up his left arm.

Anyone with information about the children's whereabouts should contact the Madison County Sheriff's Department at 1-692-4433.

October train, bus excursion offered

An autumn excursion is the next activity being offered by the American Association of Railroaders Inc., a non-profit educational and historical organization based in St. Louis.

Two tours are offered on Oct. 12 with each including train and bus travel between St. Louis and Hermann with a winery tour, visit to the Historic Hermann Museum and an opportunity to look over the arts and crafts exhibits.

Tour A will depart from the Amtrak Station in downtown St. Louis by chartered bus at 7 a.m. This tour will include a visit to the Stone Hill Winery and the other sightseeing options in town. The return to St. Louis will be aboard Amtrak's Amfleet train with arrival home at 2:30 p.m.

The train ride along the wide Missouri River is one of the most scenic rail lines in Missouri, and the fall foliage will add to the enjoyment of travel through the valley which has often been called the "Rhinecland" of America.

Tour B will depart from the downtown station at 8 a.m. and will visit the Hermann Winery as part of the tour. This tour will return to St. Louis by chartered bus at 4 p.m.

Individuals may purchase snack items on the train, bring a snack lunch or purchase items at the stores and restaurants in Hermann. Free parking is available at the Amtrak Station, 550 S. 16th St., at transside.

The fare of $25 adult and $20 for children age 11 and under includes the round trip transportation, winery and museum tours and free time to visit the exhibits and parts of this historic river town. Reservations are required and may be obtained by sending a check to AAR, 3422 Osage St., St. Louis, Mo. 63118. For more information, the phone number is 314-752-3148.

Holiday closings set

Quad-City area schools and some governmental offices plan to be closed on Monday, Oct. 14, in observance of Columbus Day. Driver license offices will be closed Saturday, Oct. 12, reopening Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Dance classes slated

The Granite City Park District again this year will offer dance classes at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues. Becky Kozak will lead the dance instruction, which will include tap and ballet. Class time will be Tuesdays from 4 to 7 p.m. and the instruction will conclude in early March with the Winter Carnival.

Madison to seek surplus property

In an effort to obtain a certification agreement for the City of Madison to be eligible for federal surplus property, Mayor John Bellico appointed a committee Oct. 8 to prepare the application.

Those approved by the aldermen as committee members are Richard Tutka, Paul Ashford, Robert Robbins, Don Wilson, Chris Costello, Charles Rockett and the mayor. They will contact the Illinois Department of Central Management Services for the certification.

Efforts by city officials are continuing in the hope of attracting businesses and professionals to Madison, the mayor said. He will meet with a dentist from Edwardsville on Friday, and there are tentative plans for the dentist to be in Madison two days a week.

The council approved reappointment of George Amisch and Raymond Green to the Zoning Board of Appeals, with their terms of office to end Aug. 26, 1990. Amisch will serve as board chairman.

Aldermen approved the Board of Police Commissioners' recommendation to promote Curtis Bradley and Richard Bailey to patrolmen. The two have completed their probationary service with the Madison Police Department.

The Knights of Columbus will conduct a benefit candy sale Nov. 12.

Mayor Bellico said he will enter the hospital Oct. 22 and will not be able to serve as a municipal convention delegate Oct. 26-27. Approval was given for Don Garrett, previously named as alternate, to be the delegate. James Hillmer was named as the alternate.

Alderman William Gushieff told the council several constituents in his ward were present to object to a proposal that land on Third Street be zoned for a multiple-unit dwelling instead of a one-family dwelling.

Gushieff said he also opposes the change. Mayor Bellico said, "At a similar situation when approval was wanted for an apartment house on McCambridge (Avenue), you voted differently. Remember?" Gushieff denied during the meeting that he voted in favor of the latter apartment complex; later, he said he abstained from voting on the apartment project.

BATTERY AND RESISTING ARREST CHARGES FILED

Receiving a complaint of a motorist honking a horn while driving in the 2300 block of Lee Avenue Oct. 5, officers found a car without a driver and then saw a man knocking at the door of a residence, Jack G. Bruce, 42, of 728 Old Alton Road allegedly declined to leave the area when the occupant declined to talk with him, reports said.

Bruce allegedly pushed an officer in the chest. Force was used to place him in a squad car and he was arrested for battery and resisting arrest. At the police station, Bruce reported chest pains and an ambulance was called, but technicians concluded no treatment was required.

School elections '85

Madison candidates vie for school positions

Seven candidates are running for five seats on the Madison Board of Education in the Nov. 5 election. All are seeking four-year terms except Edmund Warchol, who is unopposed for the only two-year term.

Billie Bosworth

A member of the Madison Board of Education for seven years, Mrs. Billie Bosworth is seeking re-election for another four-year term Nov. 5.

"Mrs. Bosworth commented, 'My concern for children is my reason for seeking re-election. We have a very good school district and we must strive to make it enjoyable for kids to attend.'

"I feel we are going in the right direction with the new programs and ideas that have been initiated. We have to see them grow, and we need the guidance of the teachers and board for this to happen.

"Sometimes it is hard for people to see we have some really great kids in the district. The few who cause problems are what people seem to remember.

"You must have genuine concern for children and pride in your community to put in the time it takes to help make your town and schools a great place to live and receive an education.

"I will continue to work at this and give it my all. I am proud to be part of this district and a citizen of this community."

Mrs. Bosworth served as school board secretary in 1980-81 and presently is on the negotiating committee for a new contract with the teachers.

She is a board representative to SWELL (South Western Educators Legislative Lobbyists) and a voting delegate of the Madison School District at the Illinois state convention of school boards for two years.

A resident of Madison for 51 years, Mrs. Bosworth lives at 1657 Fourth St. She is a housewife and an Avon sales representative. She previously worked at St. Elizabeth Medical Center on the maternity floor.

She attended Madison schools and Belleville Area College.

Mrs. Bosworth has been married to Courtland Bosworth for 35 years. They are the parents of three children, all whom attended Madison schools. They also have five grandchildren and two are now students in Madison schools.

An elder in the First Presbyterian Church in Madison, Mrs. Bosworth also serves as a Sunday school teacher. Active with young people, she is affiliated with the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers as well as volunteering time with the cheerleaders and pom pom squad of the school district. She also has served as a volunteer with the Madison Parents Club.

Donald Bridick

"To work for the taxpayers of Madison and see that their tax dollars are spent properly," that is the reason given by Donald Bridick for seeking a position on the Madison School Board.

He wants to assure that "the monies the schools have are invested for the greatest return, and to be able to have an input so the future will bring better education for the children of our community."

A lifelong resident of Madison and a taxpayer for 20 years, Bridick said, "If it were to be checked, you will see that some candidates rent and do not pay any tax to the City of Madison. If someone does not pay tax into our city, I feel they cannot be concerned how our dollars are spent."

Bridick is a police officer with the Madison Police Department and formerly the chief. He is married to the former Karen Grobowski.

A graduate of Madison High School, he earned an associate degree from Belleville Area College. He has experience in budget control and estimates he helped save taxpayers a total of $344,388 in 1977-85.

"While we were saving this money, the crime rate dropped in 1977 by 30 percent as compared to 1976. There was a 21 percent decrease in 1978 and a 9.3 percent increase in 1979. In 1980, a 1 percent decrease; 1981, decrease of 17 percent; 1982, a 13.9 percent increase; 1983, a 13 percent decrease; and 1984, a 17 percent decrease.

"You can see by the figures listed, the job can be accomplished and still save taxpayers' money."

Edward Dohnal

An incumbent member of the Madison Board of Education, Edward J. Dohnal, 1664 Sixth St., is seeking re-election. He was first elected in 1981.

"I am running for the school board because I care about our children and our school system and the type of education they receive. I am interested in the performance of our teachers in educating our children.

"I will be available to the community, principals, teachers, parents and children whenever needed, as in the past four years," Dohnal said.

"I will work with all the school board members for the betterment of all types of educational programs and tutoring for the children having difficult learning problems.

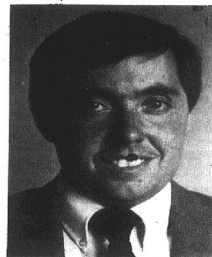

"The next four years, I feel, will be critical years for Madison School District 12.

"With the knowledge I have acquired serving as a board member and serving as a member of the policy committee, part of the special education committee for four years, a delegate to the Illinois State School Board Conference, an member of the negotiation committee — I believe this knowledge will aid our school district."

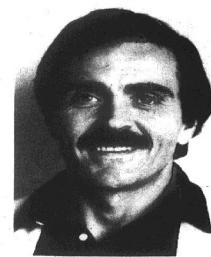

Employed at Columbian Chemical Co., St. Louis, Dohnal is a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society

Boosters, St. Stanislaus Lodge, the Madison Democratic City Organization and the Boy Scout Troop 47 committee.

He served in the U.S. Army from 1959 to 1961, seeing service in Korea. He formerly was cubmaster of Cub Pack 47 and scoutmaster of Troop 47.

Dohnal was educated at St. Adalbert Grade School and East St. Louis Senior High School.

John Hamm

A first-time candidate for the Madison Board of Education is John Hamm, 1111 of 1739 Fourth St., father of five children.

He said he is a candidate because "as a citizen of the community for the past 12 years, and a parent of five children — four in this school district — I feel that the taxpayers of our city should receive the best return for their dollars invested in the system, whether it be in the children's education, the maintenance of the school district facilities, contracted services or sports programs."

A 1966 graduate of Cahokia High School, he has served as president for four years of the Granite City Little Rascals Football Club.

Hamm has been president of the Tri-County Football Conference for two years. He is still the president of both organizations.

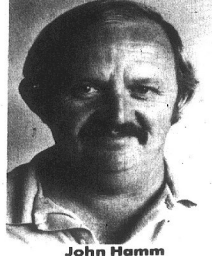

The candidate received special training in fire and safety programs at the Texas A&M university.

Hamm has experience in "maintenance programs, cost analysis, job estimating and executing of budgets," he relates.

Hamm is employed as an operator at the Shell Oil Refinery and is the owner of Hamm's Landscaping and Pools.

Mike Macek

A candidate for the first time for the Madison School Board, Mike Macek, 1600 Fourth St., has experience in public positions, having served previously as fire chief and as alarm supervisor for the City of Madison.

John Hamm

Edmund Warchol

Edward Dohnal

"I have always been interested in the welfare of the city," Macek said.

"I feel that, with my past experience in seeking grants and being involved with many improvement projects in the city, I can be of service to the students, the taxpayers and the school system in making recommendations for improvements in our school system."

Macek added, "I have held top administrative positions as fire chief, alarm supervisor, supervisor of improvement projects for the city and supervisor of personnel on development projects."

"I am a lifelong resident of the city and attended Madison public schools, graduating in 1972."

"I believe I will be able to put in the time that is needed for a school board member. I will try to be at every meeting and also will research projects that will be beneficial for the students and school system."

He is the owner of M.L. Macek Co., general contractors, located at 1600 Fourth, Madison.

James Newsome

A seven-year member of the Madison School Board, James E. Newsome Sr. is seeking re-election this fall "to continue to work for a higher quality of education for the district."

A 1963 graduate of Madison High School, Newsome attended Belleville Area College for one year in 1974 and also attended McKendree College in Lebanon for two years, 1976 to 1978.

He is a detective lieutenant in the Madison County sheriff's department and has served on the school board since 1978.

Newsome said, "Working with other board members and with the administrators to achieve a high quality of education has involved making good decisions and keeping close observation on how tax dollars are spent. Through this close control, the Madison School District continued to operate 'in the black.'"

"I am proud to be one of the members who instituted the in-school supervision program to keep our children off the streets when minor infractions of the rules have occurred. This program gives the students an opportunity to keep up with their school work although still being penalized for these minor infractions."

"The majority of our graduates continue on to a higher level of education. This reflects on the quality of education they receive in our school system."

"Only through the cooperation of our teachers, administrators and board members has this been accomplished."

Edmund Warchol

Appointed to the Madison Board of Education in December 1983 to replace the late Sam Dymas, Edmund B. Warchol, 908 Washington Ave., is a candidate for election to the board Nov. 5.

He said, "I will continue to work hard with the board for the good of the district, and for all the students to get a good education."

Warchol is Madison director of civil defense, treasurer of the Madison Lions Club and of the St. Mary's Church Booster Club, a member of the supervisory committee at St. Mary's Credit Union, and a member of the Madison City Organization.

Born in East St. Louis, he attended high school there. After his marriage in 1951, he and his wife, Catherine, moved to Madison.

He worked at the Castings Division of General Steel Industries and later at the Alcoa research and development laboratory. He next worked at the American Car Foundry, from where he retired.

He and his wife are the parents of a son, Ronald.

Granite City High School students score high on ACT

Granite City High School students who took the American College Test during the 1984-85 school year scored higher than the averages for both the state and nation, according to figures released this week by Principal Gilbert V. Wamsley.

The ACT, most popular college entrance test at the high school, was taken by 306 juniors and seniors.

Results show the average composite score on the test was 19.6, compared to the state average of 18.9 and the national average of 18.6. The composite score represents the average of the four testing categories: English, mathematics, social studies and natural science.

In English, GCHS students scored an average of 18.6, compared to the state average of 18.3 and the national average of 18.1.

In mathematics, Granite City students averaged 18.5, compared to the state average of 17.7 and the national average of 17.2. Although Granite City students' lowest score was in mathematics last year, their average score was still higher than both the state and national averages.

For social studies, GCHS students scored an average of 18.7, compared to the state average of 17.8 and the national average of 17.4.

In natural science, students here scored their highest with 21.8, compared with the state average of 21.4 and the national average of 21.2.

Eight percent of the Granite City High School students scored in the top quartile of the total test scores between 28 and 36 (compared to 8 percent in the state and 7 percent in the nation), while 27 percent scored in the bottom quartile, between one and 15, compared to 29 percent in the state and 30 percent in the nation. Twenty-nine percent scored between 21 and 25, while 36 percent scored between 16 and 20.

For the second year in a row, students from GCHS scored higher than both state and national averages on all four ACT sub-tests, as well as on the composite score.

Baton lessons offered

The Granite City Park District will offer basic lessons in baton twirling every Wednesday beginning Oct. 23.

The classes will be taught by Barbara Brandt at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. for children in grades one through six. Fees for this and other winter programs are to be announced later.

Meetings slated on water service, industrial park

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

Meetings are scheduled with Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza officials and with industrialist Wayne Lanter in conjunction with business development efforts in Madison. It was announced at a City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor John Bellico said Lanter is in the process of purchasing railroad property adjacent to his present business location in the city's Stephen Maerz Industrial Park and plans to expand his operations.

A MEETING IS SET for Oct. 16 with the owner of Gateway Truck Plaza and his attorney, Leonard Schermer. Confering with them will be Cusper Nighobossian, former Madison city attorney, and Mayor Bellico.

They plan to discuss the recent annexation to Madison of a commercial area on Route 203, including the truck plaza, located south of the main territory of Madison.

Bellico said he wants to try to establish a firm projection of potential city tax revenue from the highway area, before plans are made to possibly install a southward extension of city water service.

"I DON'T THINK the city is any financial shape to assume the expense of the water line unless we can be sure of a (yearly) return of $50,000 to $85,000 from sales taxes."

"In respect to this project, I have been talking with people about obtaining a grant for $125,000 to help defray the cost of the water extension, should we resolve this problem," Bellico told the aldermen.

There is no more space currently available in the present boundaries of the industrial park, the mayor said, but there is one acre of ground in the back of the Madison Middle School that could be utilized. "We need to get people in there to clear the trees and debris and prepare it for use," he commented.

MADISON — Fines will be imposed on residents who continue to allow their pets to run loose in the city. Mayor John Bellico told councilmen Tuesday night.

It has been a problem for some time and people still ignore the rules, a discussion brought out. Ronald Grzywacz Jr., humane officer, is now posting large orange posters throughout the city to call attention to the ordinance, it was noted.

Motorists given right signal for pedestrian crosswalks

GRANITE CITY — Signs informing motorists of a pedestrian's right in a crosswalk have been installed on Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road.

Police Chief Bill Harris said he feels the signs are needed because several high school students have complained they are trying to comply with the law but motorists are not cooperating.

Harris warned students last month that they must cross the streets surrounding the school in marked crosswalks. He said if they did not comply, they would be ticketed for jaywalking.

The chief cited a motor vehicle law which requires motorists to yield the right-of-way to pedestrians while they are crossing the roadway within a crosswalk.

He said the law applies to crosswalk areas where there are stop signs or flashing red lights as well as areas that do not have traffic control signals.

He added that pedestrians may not suddenly walk or run into the path of a moving vehicle that is so close as to constitute an immediate hazard.

Harris said police officers have been monitoring the crosswalks near the school and have issued several citations to motorists.

Muscular Dystrophy event

Lions' Candy Day on Friday

There will be Lions on the streets here Friday, Oct. 11, Candy Day. Chairman of the benefit project are Sig Shedd of Pontoon Beach and Bob Malankovic of Madison.

Candy Day is the Lions' primary fundraising activity. The event will continue Saturday in Madison.

Lions, 30,000 strong statewide, will be out from sunup through sundown giving away candy rolls and accepting contributions for them. They'll be on street corners, in shopping malls and wherever the public gathers.

Bright yellow aprons, caps and other trimmings will be worn. Candy Day funds will go to humanitarian programs for the blind and deaf.

Robert Ostrom, president of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, the clubs' philanthropic agency, said, "With government phasing out of many programs of support that the blind and deaf have counted on in the past, it is all the more important that the Lions clubs go all out."

Granite City BPW to hear Don Kassing

Don Kassing, president of Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, will be the guest speaker at the Oct. 16 dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Kassing will speak on the tax referendum which will be on the Nov. 5 ballot, according to Rose Har- grett, legislation chairman, who is in charge of the session.

The featured speaker has 20 years of experience in business and education and worked for General Motors Corp. and Brown Group Inc. prior to joining BAC in 1975. He also worked as a consultant for Webster University, Saunders College Publishing Co. and the Scholl Corp. Kassing received a bachelor degree in economics from St. Louis University and a master degree in business administration from SLU. He has done additional graduate work at Washington University. He is married and the father of three sons.

Reservations for the dinner meeting at Charlie's Restaurant may be made by calling Pauline Weir at 452-7529 or Becky Slate at 452-5391 after 5 p.m.

The chairman is extending an invitation to any working woman interested in attending the meeting or becoming a member.

Pageant on Oct. 19

Girls hoping to win the Lily of the Valley pageant are registering with Phyllis Shaver, 931-1151, for the Saturday, Oct. 19, event.

Awards will include crowns, robes, trophies and banners. Age groups for the competition are 4-6, 7-10, 11-14 and 15-and-older.

Doors will open at 8:30 a.m. and the pageant will start at 9 a.m. Oct. 19 at the St. Elizabeth School cafeteria, Johnson and Pontoon roads.

Girls entering the pageant will model dresses and sportswear and will be interviewed. There also will be talent and photogenic competition.

Q. I graduated from college two years ago and have a good job. Like most people, I have made a few major purchases for which I am paying off credit cards and loans. Is there a rule of thumb for how much personal debt a person can carry? I don't want to get in over my head.

A. This is a good time to ask that question, before the water gets too deep. However, there is no exact answer. Personal debt is an individual matter and it would be impractical to include everyone under a single rule. Most financial advisors are now saying it makes more sense to look at an individual's ability to pay, rather than just to look at the indebtedness as a whole. It has been suggested that no more than 20 percent of after-tax income should go to repay indebtedness, excluding the cost of a house mortgage. If the cost of housing, insurance, taxes were added to the debt figure, that figure shouldn't be over 50 percent of your income. And, the fifty percent figure may be too high, depending on your life style.

In Fifth Annual Tourney

Warriors earn first-round shutout of Rams

Warriors Look For Another Championship

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School's first-round game with Riverview Gardens in the Fifth Annual Soccer Tournament of Champions can best be described in one word: deceiving.

The game began in somewhat a confusing and deceiving way when both teams showed up in their home whites. For 14 minutes of the first quarter it appeared as though there were 20 (and two goalkeepers) members on the same team on the field. Following play was as difficult as scoring on a boyard shot.

FIRST YEAR Riverview coach Bill Klaus graciously took the blame for the confusion. "We weren't able to the Rams dominating. Or so it appeared.

WHILE BOTH coaches were openly displaying some displeasure with their teams' on-field performance, the Warriors, statistics later proved, were not as sluggish as both they appeared and Warrior Coach Gene Baker thought.

Led by second-half goals by junior Steve Becker, sophomore Jeff Grote and senior Jeff Zukas, the Warriors lambasted the Rams 31-5 in shots taken while forcing eight corner kicks. Riverview did not have a corner kick in the game.

Saves were similarly unbalanced. Granite City recorded just three — one in the second half — while Riverview's Rich Caples was forced to

SHOTGUN! While defender Mark Houston looks on, Granite City High School's Dennis Gaudreault takes this fourth quarter shot during Tuesday night's soccer game between the Warriors and the Riverview Gardens Rams in the Fifth Annual Tournament of Champions. Gaudreault didn't score on this play, but it didn't matter as the Warriors went on to win anyway 3-0. Scoring for the Warriors were Steve Becker, Jeff Grote and Jeff Zukas. In action Wednesday night, the Warriors beat Parkway North 1-0.

Friday Matchup GCHS downs Vikings; look now to North Stars

GRANITE CITY — Senior Scott Blason provided all the offense the Warrior soccer team needed Wednesday night as Granite City High went on to beat Parkway North 1-0.

Blason's goal, which came unassisted as he dribbled out of his position in the Warrior backfield, came on an overlapping play near the end of the first half.

"It was a beautiful play," said Warrior coach Gene Baker. "Scott came out of the back field on what we call the rhythm of the game, a period early or late in the quarter when we feel that the other team may be letting down."

BLASON'S goal came within the final minute of the second quarter. The Warriors, 11-0-4 overall, are 2-0 in the tournament and will meet McCluer North, also 2-0 in the tournament, Friday at 8:15 p.m. to decide the champion of the D division. The winner of the division will advance into the semi-finals on Saturday at 1 p.m.

Should the Warriors beat McCluer Friday they will play the winner of the B division at 1 p.m. Saturday in one semi-final game. At this point, Christian Brothers (CBC), Hazelwood West or Chamblaine could be the Warriors' opponents Friday if they should get by the North Stars.

THE OTHER semi-final game, between the C and D divisions, will be played at 11 a.m. At this point the only undefeated teams are the Warriors, McCluer North, Hazelwood East, Vianney, CBC, DeSmet, Harrison (Ind.), and Glenbrook North. The third-place game will be played at 5 p.m. while the championship, the grand finale, will be played at 7 p.m. All games Saturday will be played on the Gauntlet.

In action Wednesday, Hazelwood West downed Chamblaine, while McCluer North, surely one of the best teams in the tourney, battered Riverview Gardens 7-0. In other action Wednesday, CBC shut out St. Mary's 2-0 while Vianney turned back St. Louis University High 2-1.

The following are the results thus far:

Monday, Oct. 7
St. Louis University High 2, Hazelwood West 0
McCluer North 2, Parkway North 1 (PK in OT)
Hazelwood West 4, St. Mary's 1
Vianney 3, Hazelwood Central 0
Tuesday, Oct. 8
Chamblaine 2, Riverview Gardens 1 (OT)
CBC 3, Hazelwood West 1
DeSmet 2, Rocky 1 (OT)
Hazelwood East 2, Hazelwood Central 1
Granite City 3, Chamblaine 0
Wednesday, Oct. 9
Hazelwood West 2, Chamblaine 0
McCluer North 7, Riverview Gardens 0
CBC 2, St. Mary's 0
DeSmet 2, St. Louis University High 1
GCHS 1, Parkway North 0

make the (organizational) meeting Sunday. We were the ones out of uniform. We were supposed to be in our dunks."

No problem, though. Red pullovers were summoned from the Warriors' equipment room, the Rams threw them over their shoulders and the game continued.

But even after that problem was remedied, the deception continued. Both teams were sluggish in their early going, neither the Warriors nor stop 13.

WHILE THE statistical imbalance was prevalent in the first three categories, fouls were somewhat more similar: Granite City 19, Riverview 14.

"We did some things right, but too there was an awful lot of people standing around out there. We need to follow through on the ball down and then put it in the net," Baker said. "With that many shots I think we should've scored more."

Then the Warrior coach found room to praise the Rams' play.

"Riverview's playing better ball than they have," Baker said. "Their record doesn't show it, but they're a good upset team. A team to rise up and knock someone off," Baker said. "They'll get you if you're slow (to start) and don't expect them."

Two years ago it was the Rams who did just that, rising to the occasion to eliminate the Warriors from the winners' bracket of the third annual tournament.

FOLLOWING a first half draw in Tuesday's game, Granite City broke the deadlock in the third quarter. Warrior back David DeRousse put the ball in play following a restart and chipped it to Joe Gray who touched it off to Becker for the first Warrior tally.

"I feel like it was a real good goal," Becker said after the game. "Any goal that breaks a 0-0 tie is a good one, but I feel like I've been playing well lately. It was my fourth goal."

Coming at the 45:11 mark,

Becker's goal came as DeRousse sent a looping, high bouncing shot over the Rams' defense which found Gray and then Becker.

"BECKER'S been doing a fine job since coming on board," Baker said. "His mental progress and his strong effort shows us that he wants a place on this team. And, too, he's been very receptive to field movement, something we're trying to establish."

Just more than 14 minutes later, in the closing seconds of the third quarter, the Warriors tallied an insurance goal as left-footed Grote took an assist from senior Dennis Gaudreault.

A crossing shot, Grote's goal came at the 59:38, just 22 seconds before the end of the third quarter.

For Grote, it was a nice way of capping off an difficult evening on the field.

"YEAH, it was a pretty tough night for me. I guess I'd be down on (the turf) five or six times. Once a thigh a couple of times my knee, and then my elbow. For me, anyway, it seemed to be a little more physical than usual."

Grote, who has two older brothers who starred for the Warriors and have now found their way to positions on the Western Illinois University soccer team, the goal was nothing more than executing a play the way his coaches have wanted.

"The shot came on Dennis' cross. Coach (Baker) has been trying to get me to stay outside of the defenders on a play like that, so I did. It was great, the pass went right between them, came to me and I was able to put it in."

"MY FIRST goal, it was a morale booster for me. Not only because I had to pick myself up off the ground all night, but because I felt like it was overdue. Sometimes you begin to wonder if you're ever going to get one," Grote said.

Although Grote may have been doubting his ability, Baker wasn't. "Grote's an outstanding sophomore, an aspiring prospect," Baker said. "We've been giving him a chance to show us something and he may be coming through — a goal and assist tonight. A dangerous passer who moves the ball well, he's producing," Baker said of Grote.

JUST WHEN it seemed as though underclassmen were going to provide the Warriors' only offense of the evening, Jeff Zukas, GCHS' senior speedster on the forward line, provided the clincher.

With just 10 seconds showing on the clock, Zukas accepted a corner kick from Grote and deftly dashed it into the net past a diving Caples.

"I missed a bunch of shots tonight," Zukas said. "I really need a goal after taking all the shots that I did. Jeff really set it up nice."

Zukas said.

Trojanettes get much-needed win against Alton-Marquette

By GARY KING
Staff writer

MADISON — Madison High School's volleyball team has found victories hard to come by this year. The Trojanettes entered their matchup with Alton Marquette having only two wins to show for a long, frustrating season.

Celebration was an emotion that had laid relatively dormant in the Madison squad this season. However, it was awfully awakened on Tuesday evening.

The Trojanettes gained a much-needed boost as they defeated the Explorers by scores of 9-15, 15-13, and 15-9. Madison coach Carol Cole, basking in the afterglow of her squad's victory, viewed this as the teams biggest win thus far.

"THIS IS definitely our biggest win yet this year, the girls played as well tonight as they have all year," said Cole.

At the outset it appeared that the Explorers were going to be too tough for the Trojanettes to handle. The fundamentally sound Marquette squad jumped out to an early 8-0 lead in the first game before Trojan Harelyn Wilson took command.

Wilson, whose serves had the velocity of a Dwight Gooden fastball, scored six unanswered points as Madison narrowed the gap to 8-6. After an exchange of points, Trojan Liz Kullum smashed two serves past the Explorers, tying the score at 9-9. However, the game ended when Marquette's Val Brinker tallied six unanswered points.

MADISON allowed the Explorers to gain an 11-6 advantage before Sharon Browley began the first of her many heroics. Browley using an underhand serve, made good on four straight attempts as the Trojanettes roared back into contention.

A foiled serve by Alton's Tammy Lewis led to the ultimate demise of the Explorers, as Madison's Tina Claggett turned a 13-13 tie into a Trojan victory with two successful serves.

The third, and deciding, game had a familiar scenario. Marquette, it appeared, had stolen Madison's momentum as they jumped out to an early 4-0 lead.

AFTER Madison had managed to tie the score at 4-4, Marquette's Teresa Johns helped the Explorers gain a 9-4 advantage. Enter, once again, "superstar" Sharon Browley. Browley served for nine unanswered points, which gave the Trojanettes a much deserved victory.

Trojans Travel To Freeburg Warriors look to Cahokia as 'magic number' diminishes

By GREGG OCHOA
Staff writer

CAHOKIA — It's now a numbers game. For the Granite City, the magic number is three — as in games left to play.

"We're starting a three-game season," said head coach Ron Yates. "So wipe off the slate, Granite City. You, too, Cahokia."

Granite City is coming off a tough loss to Belleville Althoff. The Crusaders punished the Warrior defense by piling up more than 290 yards on the ground.

This week found the Warrior braintrust in the screening room, eyes glued to what happened last week. It could have easily been a horror movie the coaches were watching.

AGAINST Althoff, Granite City didn't touch the ball much in the third quarter and had to scramble from behind. Tim Hogan's pass to brother Jamie covered 80 yards and tied the game.

But, the Crusaders won 28-21 with a fourth-quarter score.

The defensive breakdowns disturbed Yates, so the pace was picked up.

"We were in the pits working one-on-one the other day for 45 minutes," Yates said. "We are going back to basics just like we do in August."

THE REASON is simple. Granite City is trying to right itself as the season winds down.

Their opponent, Cahokia, has played tough. They battled Alton 49-27 before falling 21-14. Cahokia also lost to Jacksonville 20-14.

"Our problem is that we haven't been able to keep up the intensity for a whole game," Taylor said.

"We are a young team and we make a lot of sophomore mistakes," Taylor said.

There is a good reason for that. The Comanches start numerous underclassmen. "Hopefully this is a building year for us," Taylor said.

SOPHOMORE quarterback Nate Broaden will guide the Comanches at Alton. Broaden is 22-for-72 for 289 yards.

Cahokia relies mostly on the run. Their main weapon is Marlin Fluker (531 yards). He averages 4.7 yards a carry. When the Comanches do pass, Broaden's main target has been Jeff Lauenthal.

On defense, Cahokia will try to contain the Warriors passing attack.

"You have to try and shut down Hogan-to-Hogan," Taylor said.

After the stellar effort against Alton, the No. 9 ranked team in the state, Taylor must guard against a let down.

"THE REAL problem about a young team is you don't know about your character," the Comanches. You never know how they will react if they will be up or down."

For Granite City, the Warriors would like nothing more than to duplicate what happened a year ago. Granite rallied and beat Cahokia in its Homecoming game.

"We haven't proven ourselves as winners yet this year," Yates said.

The Warriors offense has been consistent and has supplied enough points. The senior backfield also has provided a lift.

"DAVE TAYLOR was taken the bait by the horns and has run well. Ron Owens is a super blocker and has picked up good yardage when he gets the ball. Pat Keeling has also run well."

"Our offense has kept us in the game," Yates said. "It's really been our bright spot."

Defense has been the Warrior Achilles heel.

"On defense we're lacking the intensity and the mental toughness. We're reaching, grasping and diving, just not doing the basics," Yates said.

Cross Country Meet

Wiser, girls win county meet

By KEN PERKINS
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — No one expected Alton's Norman Bilsbury to lose, and the senior didn't. Everyone knew Granite City would be a cinch to win the girls' title, and they were.

"Very few expected the Warriors' Lora Wiser to win by no less than 50 yards, and she let no one down."

All in all, it was a typical day at Tuesday's Madison County Cross-Country Meet.

"Everything went the way we thought it would," said Warrior head coach Dave McClain.

"The girls ran well, so did the boys. We're getting in the position we'd like to be at this time of the year."

Wiser, the frontrunner all season long for the Lady Warriors, paced them again by romping over the two-mile course in 12:30.

It was the third straight meet victory for Granite City, which easily outpointed the field in the Jackson-ville Invitational last week and the McClure North Invitational two weeks ago.

The victory at the county meet came as no surprise considering the Lady Warriors had already outdistanced the five-team field, by whooping accounts, in previous meets.

They tallied 21 points by putting bodies in seven of the top 10 spots. Faye Patton, who ran what McClain called, "a super race," was third while Sheila Noel, Marianne Finn and Lisa Wiser placed fourth, sixth and seventh, respectively.

Triad, with 60 points, was second, Highland placed third (90), Collinsville, fourth (102) and Edwardsville was fifth (111).

In the boys' version, the Warriors were fourth out of the six-team field, scoring 70 points.

Alton, behind the area's top runner, undefeated Bilsbury, had little trouble winning the team title with 29 points.

Edwardsville was second with 60 points, Triad placed third.

"THE BOYS ran well," McClain said. "The fourth and fifth runners came through for us. But that's what we're going to need in order to do well."

The Warriors, after getting off to a slow start, have bounced back in recent weeks. They placed third out of the nine team invitational at Jacksonville and captured the McClure Invitational.

"We can get everyone to have a good day at once, it would make a difference," McClain said.

"But you can have two runners who don't have a good day and that does it for the whole team."

Wiser continues to turn in her good days. With an eye toward the sectionals next month, the senior says she's ready to go.

"To tell you the truth," she said, "I can't wait. I've been thinking about it quite a bit. I think we've got a good chance to do real well."

Wiser's victory Tuesday was her third in as many meets. It was vintage Lora: she broke open the race after 800 yards, pulled away during the first mile and kicked in what was left of a lonely, against-the-wind sprint.

The 12-20 was a bit off her best for the SIUE course, but says Wiser, "You kind of expect it when there's no one around to push you."

"It doesn't really bother her to run out in front like that with no one around," said McClain.

"Lora is one of those runners who constantly pushes herself."

The boys' and girls' teams will be busy in the next couple weeks with the Belleville East Invitational set for Friday and the Mascoutah Invitational Tuesday.

The following Friday, they'll compete in the Southwestern Conference meet.

Tough As Leather

Warriors whip Waterloo 5-0

By JAMES BLASINGAME
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School's girls tennis team defeated Waterloo 5-0 on Wednesday afternoon in what was more of a district practice than a tennis match.

The Warriors and Bulldogs alike, made changes in their season-long lineups in preparation for district play Oct. 18. District rules allow only six participants from each school, so on Wednesday, Granite City and Waterloo were letting newly-formed doubles teams see some game action.

For instance, Warrior coach Dick Harmon took his No. 2 and 3 singles players, Linda Briner and Andrea Suarez, to create Granite City's No. 1 district two-some.

"WE'RE JUST getting some practice playing," said Harmon during the match with Waterloo. "We're getting our doubles teams ready for district."

As of now, Granite City's district squad going to Highland includes: singles entries, Marsha Williams and Sandy Taylor, and doubles teams, Dawn Bowers and Jima Gonzales, and Briner and Suarez.

But before districts, comes Saturday's Southwestern Conference championships.

"It looks like West and East (the Belleville schools) will be fighting it out for the championship," Harmon said.

"WE'LL be playing Alton for the third and fourth place. Alton beat us 5-2 (earlier in the season), so we'll have to struggle to win."

Against Waterloo, the Warriors

didn't struggle at all. Williams was a 6-0, 6-2 winner over the Bulldogs' Angie Albers, and Taylor defeated Sue Matthews 6-1, 6-0. Granite City's Janice Trittschuh also beat Waterloo's Debra Matzenbacher 6-1, 6-0 in other singles action.

In doubles, Briner and Suarez stopped Leslie Steiner and Angie Schewe of Waterloo 6-1, 6-4, and Bowers and Gonzales handled Julie Koestner and Kelly Cardwell 6-1, 6-1.

With the win over Waterloo, the Warriors raised their season record to 6-7. Granite City, 2-3 in the Southwestern Conference, hosts Wood River on Monday.

Warrior Football

For Bob Stegemeier, the defensive coordinator, last week's loss was frustrating. Stegemeier used the week off to compile a thorough scouting report.

"WE JUST didn't execute," Stegemeier said. "We have scored enough points to beat almost everybody we played. The Danville game was heartbreaking, but we really thought this year we could beat West and Albion. They were down."

The Warriors came close, but came up short.

Nonetheless, a win over Cahokia could be the tonic the Warriors need.

Yates hopes to take advantage of the Comanches' inexperience. Cahokia returns just two lettermen.

YATES would like nothing better than an encore of last season. During the final three games of 1984 the Warriors went 2-1.

"I'll take that again," the coach said.

It's been one of those years; a few calls here, some big plays by our defense and if our offense remains consistent we win a few more ball games."

In the Madison camp, the Trojans (5-0) will seek their sixth win of the season when they visit Freeburg. The game will be played Saturday evening with a 7:30 p.m. starting time.

The Trojans were 48-6 winners a week ago over Red Bud, while Freeburg (3-3) lost a 10-0 decision to Dupu. Madison won last year's meeting between the two schools in overtime.

GRANITE CITY CAMPUS

ATHLETE of the WEEK

DAWN DETERDING

Dawn Deterding was named Athlete of the Week for the Granite City Campus for September 30, October 6. Deterding, one of the hitters on the Stars' volleyball team, was a dominating offensive force in three consecutive victories over Lincolnland, Meramec, and Lewis and Clark.

Coach Clabbe Briggs particularly cited Deterding for her role in sparking two comeback victories. In both the Meramec and Lewis and Clark matches, the Stars lost the first game, only to come back on consistently strong spiking from their key hitter.

Deterding, a sophomore, is a 1983 graduate of Triad High School.

Lewis Ent was a fine pitcher with a fastball for medicine

Funny thing was, I never saw him throw a baseball in all the years that I knew him. But, I now realize that it is very possible that he might have become one of baseball's greatest pitchers. That is, if he hadn't decided to devote his life to medicine and had become a family doctor, instead.

Who was this possible miracle man of the mound? He was the late Dr. Lewis Ent, who died several years back in Cairo, the city of his birth where he had practiced from 1935. He was a great sports loving man; he rarely missed a Sugar Bowl football game and took in as many pro games, the Cardinals, mostly, and frequently would sneak away from his busy practice to see the boys play games up at St. Mary's Park.

I first met Dr. Lew after the birth of my first child was born. He had finished his internship at St. Louis' City Hospital after graduating from Washington University's School of Medicine.

Dr. Phil McNeer was our doctor. My wife, Joyce, was about to give birth to my son, Alvin. His was a difficult birth, face forward, and Dr. Phil called in young (at that time) Dr. Ent to help.

This all came back to me when I visited my brother, Foster, now retired from his printing business on 28th street, right down the street from Freddy Ent Lehnung's drug store. Freddy Ent was Dr. Lew's nephew.

I always visit Freddy Ent Lehnung when Joyce and I come home to Cairo. I finally found him at his home listening to the Cardinals game with the Mets at New York City.

I wanted to get some information about Dr. Ent from Freddy Ent, who as I've said I had long known had had a promise of a future as a pitcher in the Big Leagues.

"Yes," said Lehnung, "my uncle had given up a promising career to become a doctor."

I quickly assured him that I had known that because the late Roy White, who had married my wife's sister, Myrtle Alice, had told me time and time again that he was sure that Dr. Ent could have made it in and to the major leagues.

Dr. Ent, who was a hard-throwing left hander like the immortal George Herman (Babe) Ruth, was also built a good deal like the Bambino, sturdy-

Sports of all Sorts

By Al Barnes

ly built and wide across the chest. Dr. Lew, everyone who knew him, could hit a ton and better than average and the long ball.

The Babe, all true baseball fans know, was also a great pitcher. Unlike the Babe, though, as young Lehnung remembers, Doctor Lew was not very fast at all. But, said young Lehnung the other day: "Uncle Lew always said that wasn't a problem if he had decided to go with baseball. He said he's hit a home run. And, he could," said the nephew, "he could really hit that ball."

Roy White and Dr. Ent were lifelong friends and graduated from high school together. White was the Righty hurler and Dr. Ent, the Southpaw on the Cairo High baseball team.

But, Lehnung had a definite clue and proof as to whether or not his uncle Lew did, in fact, have a chance to make it to the major leagues. "Here's how I know for sure," he explained. "Doc was up on the campus of the University of Illinois at Champaign visiting his future wife, Amy, who was from St. Louis. The Illinois baseball squad was working out and he and Amy strolled by the diamond. Soon, Doc was playing catch with one of the guys. After a while, Ent began blazing the ball in and a crowd, including some scouts, gathered around. And the Coach of the team, a former major league player, joined everyone watching the pitches of my uncle."

So, according to Lehnung, the scouts were so impressed that many of them offered to sign a pro contract. However, he demurred, saying that he felt that he owed it to the people of Cairo to return there as a doctor.

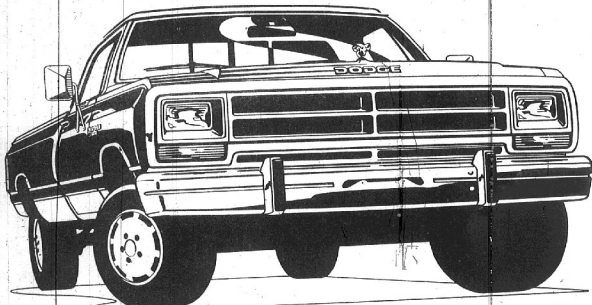

So, baseball lost a pitcher, but Cairo gained a great doctor and a truly dedicated sportsman. All through World War II, Dr. Ent who was turned down for service because of an old injury, would never charge a service man's wife or their children for any treatment.

As already mentioned, Dr. Ent worked his way through medical college and helped pay his way by playing his sax with dance bands in and around St. Louis. In later years, he would join another Cairo music maker, Willie Karcher, in "sitting in" in jamming sessions with the many dance bands who played the many night clubs in Pulaski and Alexander counties. And, in many cases, with the traveling bands that played the Army en route from Chicago to New Orleans.

He was a great guy. It was a case of medicine and music's gain and baseball's loss.

Granite Chapter 650 honors past officers

Past matrons and past patrons of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, were accorded special honors at a meeting in the Masonic Temple last week.

Serving as officers for the night were Betty Kelso, worthy matron; Dorothy Watkins, associate matron; Donna Kagy, associate conductress; Rachel Lee, conductress; Varsenig Throne, Adah; Bess Henley, Esther, Virginia Johns, Martha; Ida Cariss, marshal; and Arline Fox, organist.

Past patrons included Neal Kelso, worthy patron, Charles Youngs associate patron, Jack DeCoursey, warder and Cleveland Cox, sentinel.

Other pro-tem officers were Carol Downing, chaplain, Kim Hebbelthwaite, Ruth, and Shirley Schwendemann, Electra.

Worthy Matron Wanda MacDonough and Worthy Patron William MacDonough presented each guest officer with a ceramic heart-shaped plate embossed with a gold Eastern Star emblem.

Following the retiring march, a style show was provided by Queen's Wear Boutique. Models were Mary French, Dorothy Watkins, Betty Kelso and Lois Hebbelthwaite.

Table centerpieces were given away during a social and refreshment hour. Favors were clothespin dolls, and table appointments were accented with yellow daisies on plates and candle rings.

At a previous meeting, the worthy matron honored all who served on the kitchen committee in preceding months. Jars of grape jelly made from her grape arbor served as special gifts.

Grand lecturers Hazel Wood and Arline Fox, 12 past matrons and three past patrons were escorted and introduced.

Associate Patron Jack DeCoursey reported tickets for a dinner dance Oct. 12 celebrating the chapter's 75th anniversary were available. The Chateau will entertain.

The worthy matron extended sympathy on behalf of the chapter to Betty Kelso, the mother of the late mother and to Hannah Kleinschmidt on the death of her brother-in-law. She said the worthy patron, William MacDonough, was recuperating at home after being hospitalized, John DeHart was hospitalized and Lois Billeby and Della Aulabaugh were ill. Deceased members named were George Reynolds and Jack Lamb.

Gifts will be given to Wanda and William MacDonough, Shirley Schwendemann and Jack DeCoursey; they are to attend grand chapter sessions in Springfield. Hazel Wood, grand lecturer, received a gift for the grand chapter school.

Pro-tem officers for the night were Jack DeCoursey and Neal Kelso.

County VFW Auxiliaries meet at local Post 1300

VFW Post 1300 Auxiliary was host to the Madison County Council of VFW Auxiliaries last week, with Senior Vice President Viola Maddalini presiding.

Representatives from the 12th District included Pontoon Beach 1545, Edwardsville 1299, Wood River 2859, Collinsville 5691, Highland 3694, Cottage Hills 7678 and Granite City.

Other officers attending were Junior Vice President Roslyn Stone, Conductress Carrie Flackur, Treasurer Eleanor Dann, Banner Bearer Lois Huff, Flag Bearer Shirley Brewster, State Historian Lil Earlin, Director Hazel Young, Chaplain Jan Bauer and Secretary Gladys Nagall.

Maddalini said the council was chartered on May 18, 1950, and this was the final meeting. It is being disbanded, ending a 33-year span for the Madison County Council.

Past Matrons club plans yule party

Plans for a Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 7, were finalized at the October meeting of the Past Matrons Club of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Donna Boyer Monday night, with Yarsenig Thorne, president, presiding. She opened the session by reading a poem, "No One Lives Forever."

A discussion was held on the past matrons and past patrons meeting of the chapter and those who served in various offices.

Those noted to be ill included Sammie James, Eva Goodwin, Emma Gobble, Ruth Dick and John DeHart. Each member recited the Mispah, followed by Mrs. Thorne reading two messages.

Prizes for the evening went to Dorothy Watkins, Hannah Kleinschmidt and Vee Thorne. Others present were Mary French, Ida Carles, Arline Fox, Betty McClintock, Mary Billrey, Karmyn Edmonds, Betty Kelso, Virginia John and Donna Kagy.

Post 1300 Auxiliary aids child welfare

A donation of $140 for child welfare at the National Home and Christmas cheer for the Illinois cottage and scholarship fund was approved at a meeting of the Ptv. Henry Ostendorf Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300.

Rose Dowdy, chairman of the committee, announced Illinois Day was observed at the National Home during the weekend of Oct. 5. President Mary Kay Calkin conducted the meeting and members approved the membership of Irene Gibson.

Margaret Champion, rehabilitation chairman, reported sending four plants and two greeting cards to members in hospitals.

Hospital Chairman Rose Heffer said four members went to the John Cochran Veterans Hospital in St. Louis to serve coffee and cupcakes for a bingo party and five women served refreshments at a party at the Alton Mental Health Center.

The charter was draped by Debbie Jones in memory of three past department presidents, Mildred Kindelton, Lorraine Johnson and Ina Spackman.

A review of activities included a dance held at the post Sept. 29 for the POW-MIA program, a Madison County Council meeting Oct. 3 and an Oct. 8 program with Post 1300 on drug abuse.

The president reminded the group that the auxiliary is a service organization dedicated to promoting patriotism, protecting veterans' rights, helping hospitalized and homeless veterans and their dependents, and conducting projects to improve the community. She served refreshments after the meeting.

Masterworks Chorale presents 'Amadeus'

The Masterworks Chorale, under the direction of Dr. A. Dennis Sparger, will open its 12th concert season on Sunday, Oct. 13, with "Amadeus," a concert of music by Mozart. The 7:30 p.m. performance will be given at St. Teresa Catholic Church, 1201 Lebanon Ave., Belleville. The 56-voice chorale will be joined by four guest soloists and an orchestra of 21 professional players.

Featured work for this performance is the Midwest premiere of a new edition of Mozart's unfinished "Requiem" that utilizes recently discovered sketches by the composer, and a fresh orchestration based on the style Mozart used in the works of his final year.

This special edition, prepared by Dr. Richard Maumder of Christ's College, Cambridge, England, has been performed only four times in the U.S. A recording of this edition by Christopher Hogwood and the Academy of Ancient Music has been among the top-selling classical recordings since its release last year.

The Belleville performance will differ from the Hogwood recording, using modern instruments rather than originals or reconstructions, and women's voices instead of boys in the choir.

Soloists will be Elizabeth Barnabe, soprano; Kimberly Valde, mezzo soprano; John Sullivan, tenor; and Gregory Newton, bass. In addition to performing in the Requiem, each will sing an aria from a Mozart opera during the first half of the concert.

Admission is $5 and tickets will be available at the door. During intermission, wine, soda and hors d'oeuvres will be available for purchase under a tent.

For information, persons may call 1-235-4886 or 1-835-0340.

Major appliances is topic of Trio Unit Homemakers

Mrs. Jan Burnett, extension adviser, spoke to the Trio Unit, Homemakers Association, on "What's New in Major Appliances." She said shoppers should decide on price, features, capacity, quality, warranties, servicing and energy efficiency required for their living style before entering the retail store.

All appliances are now solid-state and detailed instruction booklets make it possible for the owner to make many repairs instead of calling a service repair person, she said; through technology and improved insulation, manufacturers are increasing inside capacity without adding outside dimensions.

Since 1972, refrigerators have improved in energy efficiency 66 percent, freezers 56 percent, clothes washers 55 percent, and dishwashers 54 percent, she added.

Chairman Helen Miller conducted the business meeting at Hope Lutheran Church and members contributed Pennies for Friendship.

Plans for the year were completed for the unit's "sweet" booth at Holiday Harvest Oct. 12 and 13 at Relleke's farm. Proceeds will go to needy children of the Metro-East area.

Craft Day is planned Oct. 29 at 10 a.m. a Southwest District meeting Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. and a Christmas covered dish party Dec. 3 at noon. All will be in Fellowship Hall of Hope Church.

International Day featuring Pakistan will be held in the Extension auditorium in Edwardsville Nov. 4.

Hostesses Arline Brinkmeyer, Helen Roessner and Marie Durbin served refreshments to two guests, Emma Johnson and Dorothy Luckert, and 30 members.

Luke 22:42: "... nevertheless not my will, but thine be done."

The fact that prayer can be very hard work is proven by Jesus in Gethsemane. He prayed until his sweat fell as it were great drops of blood. If Jesus prayed so earnestly to God, then we must expect to do the same.

Notice the cause of such agonizing prayer: not my will, but God's will. Surrender of our will to God is not a battle once fought and forever won. Often times, we must daily pray to submit our will.

However, the results are worth the sacrifice Jesus said: "For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and my mother." This puts us right into the family of God. What a secure place to be.

Submit your will and join the family of God. Today.

23 graduate with GED at Venice-Lincoln Tech

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

A special program during the summer months at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center concluded with 23 students receiving General Educational Development (GED) high school certificates.

The first mid-year sessions to be held at the adult vocational education center was the result of cooperation by Venice School District 3 and the Department of Public Aid of Madison and St. Clair counties.

The special classes also enabled 20 students to get their driver licenses and 31 to pass the Constitution test.

Activities for students included field trips to the Gateway Arch and the St. Louis Science Center.

Along with academic programs, youngsters between the ages of 3 and 10 who were enrolled in child care classes went to the St. Louis Zoo and the Ralston-Patina Farms.

Two seminars were conducted by the Educational Opportunity Center to inform students of career opportunities and to assist them in applying for grants.

Seven students who obtained their GED certificates advanced into other education and training programs.

At the graduation ceremony, Peter Ponce, VLTTC director, addressed the students and guests and presented the certificates.

Those receiving GED certificates were James Bell, Linda Bowman, Dorothy Brandenberg, Ernestine Brazier, Sharon French, Viola Harris, Patricia Johnson, Jessie Kirk, Donald Kruschik, Kellee Kruschik, Peggy Long, Marilyn McKinney, Bobbie Moffett, Roevenia Moore, Lou Alice Monroe, Bobbie Ridgel, Mattie Smith, Susan Smith, Edith Snyder, Sharon Thomas, Kay Watts, Florence Williams and Judy Culver.

SHARING A HAPPY moment at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center graduation are Peter Ponce, VLTTC director, and Roevenia Moore, who received her GED certificate in the summer classes.

GED CERTIFICATE is presented to Edith Snyder, right, by Peter Ponce, Venice-Lincoln Technical Center director. The graduate was among 23 students attaining certificates in the school's first summer program.

Michelle Varady was crowned Homecoming queen at Madison High School on Wednesday, Oct. 2. She is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Varady, Kenny Ingram was the queen's escort.

Senior runner-up was Antoinette Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jashiah Compton, escorted by Darnell Marshall.

Winner as the junior court representative was Vicki Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, escorted by Darryl McCormick.

The sophomore court winner was Theresa Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bennett, Quincy Williams escorted her.

Donna Fletcher, daughter of Mrs. Rhonda Fletcher, was named the freshman court representative. Her escort was James Whitehead.

The retiring queen, Lisa Dohnal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dohnal, was escorted by James Townsend.

Following coronation ceremonies, the queen and her escort led her court, the escorts and all court candidates and escorts in a promenade of the gymnasium, ending in a circle. The royal court and candidates then performed a collation to "You're My Lady" by Freddy Jackson. Following the gavel, the queen and escort led the court in a recessional.

The queen and court candidates included: senior Tina Claggett; juniors, Tammy Deal and Patricia Gibson; sophomores, Sheila Marshall and Sheri Wilson; and freshmen, Terra Matthews and Tammy Tarasovich. Their escorts were Reggie Young, Delaren Young, Patrick Glasper, Tony Avila, Edwin Young, Sean Mosby and Trice Akron.

The ceremony was narrated by Carol Cole and Luvenia Long, physical education instructors, and Daniel Kostencki, principal.

Music skills demonstrated

Children from the sixth grade at Mitchell School presented a demonstration of music reading skills for parents to watch during open-house festivities.

Patricia Dineff, music teacher for the fifth and sixth grades there, prefaced each skill and explained its place in the sequence of skills to be learned. The children presented a song for the parents in a step-by-step process from beginning to end. Included in the program along with music reading skills were the patriotic songs "America," "America the Beautiful" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Students participating in the program were Tina Briley, John Cozair, Jason Garner, Jenny Gobbie, Brian Hawkins, Theresa Hosty, Jennifer King, Christopher Feiler, Roy Smith and Penny Tingley.

ST. LOUIS IRISH ARTS will feature the music of Ireland at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 11, in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 3633 Lindell St., St. Louis. Tickets costing $6 for adults and $3 for children may be purchased by calling 1-314-752-2000, 1-314-849-1622 or 1-314-849-5376.

PIANIST RUTH SLENCZYNSKA will present a benefit performance for the Wildest Arts Center in Edwardsville at 5 and 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lazerson. For information, persons may call the Wildest Arts Center at 1-656-8014.

THE REPERTORY THEATER OF ST. LOUIS will present "Under Statements" Friday, Oct. 11, through Friday, Nov. 8. Performances run Tuesdays through Fridays at 8 p.m., Saturdays at 5 and 9 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m., with selected matinees on Sundays and Wednesdays at 2 p.m. The Oct. 11 opening night performance begins at 8:30 p.m. For ticket information, persons may call 1-314-968-4925.

Culinary fare

A BARBECUE AND BAKE SALE sponsored by Venice High School FFA Hero will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 12, on the school parking lot. Pork steak sandwiches will be available at $2.75 each and barbecued chicken sandwiches will be $2.50. There also will be assorted baked goods. Proceeds will benefit the community service Christmas projects and chapter activities.

SS. CYRIL AND METHODY CHURCH will hold a fish fry from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 11, at the church, 4770 Maryville Road. Dinner, consisting of cod or catfish fillets, slaw, fahsool beans or french fries, dessert and coffee, is $3.50. Sandwiches are $2. Carryouts will be available.

Heritage Days Oct. 12, 13 in Godfrey

The sixth annual "Heritage Days on the Goshen Trail" will be held Oct. 12 and 13 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days on the wooded campus of Lewis and Clark Community College, Routes 67 and 111 in Godfrey.

As in the past, traditional craftsmen and food booth operators will be demonstrating and selling their wares, using only the methods and materials available during 1700 through 1840. All foods served are from authentic recipes and are cooked over open fires. Everyone participating will wear traditional clothing of the period.

There will be continuous entertainment both days, including puppets, a magician, story tellers, life and drum corps, bagpipes, dulcimers, dancers and craft demonstrations.

Plasma Black Powder Burners will give a shooting demonstration. There will also be a military style show. Bowling on the green and pumpkin rolling are some of the free games being offered. Free games for children are tug of war, sack races and corn shelling. There is an extensive children's hands-on learning area where for 75 cents they are taught to make a Johnny cake, wash wool, weave, dip a candle and write with a quill pen.

Colonial church services will be Sunday at 8 a.m. with both Catholic and a non-denominational service.

The purpose of Heritage Days is to educate the public in the customs, manners, methods, tools, clothing, foods and equipment used by early settlers of Southern Illinois and enter-tainers will explain the method of making their crafts or instruments.

Admission at the gate is $2 for adults; $1 for students.

27" diagonal SQUARE PLANAR PICTURE

RCA Full Spectrum.
All the color, all the sound,
all the time.

Full Resolution Color

From RCA comes the first consumer television to process 100% of the audio/video signal. You get up to three times more resolution of certain critical colors than with a conventional set. Video noise reduction dynamically reduces interference in dark picture areas while retaining sharpness and detail in brighter picture areas.

High-Fidelity Stereo Sound

Enjoy high-fidelity stereo sound from BTSC stereo TV broadcasts (where available). No set modifications or adaptors needed — stereo capability is built right in! There's even a "bilingual" feature that lets you switch to the alternate audio channel many TV stations can transmit.

Monitor Capability (Models GLR2790, 2640, 2655)

RCA Monitor-Receiver gives you the simplified hook-up and operating control you need to get the most out of your VCR and video camera. Rear input/output jacks provide direct connection to the TV chassis for sharper pictures.

Plus:

Digital remote control. Built in dbx* system to suppress noise during stereo broadcasts. Multi-band quartz crystal tuning of all VHF/UHF channels or up to 69 cable channels. Super AccuFilter 110°F COTY picture tube. Automatic programming in many models.

*dbx is a trademark of dbx, inc.
